TAKING
COOPERATION
FORWARD

-  InNow Final Conference - 17 March 2022
-  InNow project - What we learnt and where we go - invitation to further cooperation
-  Piotr Pawelec - project manager EIT InnoEnergy

LESSONS LEARNT

- Pandemic is a real game changer. The way we work won't ever be the same as it used to.
- There are great ideas by dedicated teams all around but the temas often lack sufficient business skills.
- External innovations scouting is better for large companies when they are flexible - not only looking into their originally defined needs but also to new ideas.
- Cooperation is central! Only dialog among all stakeholders makes a desired change happen.

WHAT NEXT?

- EITs Knowledge Innovation Communities (KICs) are ready to support you. You can learn more here: <https://eit.europa.eu/our-activities/eit-regional-innovation-scheme>
- Our trainings and (non-financial)support schemes are available here: <https://greenbrother.hu/academy/innow-training>
- If you are just thinkig about your startup idea take a chance on Jumstarter competition <https://eitjumpstarter.eu/>
- If you already started we can help you to scale up or accelerate your business. Just contact relevant KIC or its Hub.
- And yes, there are also money waiting for you, both from EU and national sources. If we start working with you we will help you with this, too!
