CASE STUDY TITLE

HEVLÍN STATION REVITALISATION

The first thing that captured our attention was the green terrace, which creates an iconic element to the building. It is a pleasant detail that gives originality to the aforementioned building. We have created a concept of coffee with the bar, where customers would be given a coffee or a drink by their choice before continuing to the second floor, where the exhibition of modern art in combination with older works would await them. What we mean under the term old works are works of any kind related to the significance of the railway, such as wagon models. Customers will also have a chance to look at the history in the form of contemporary photographs.

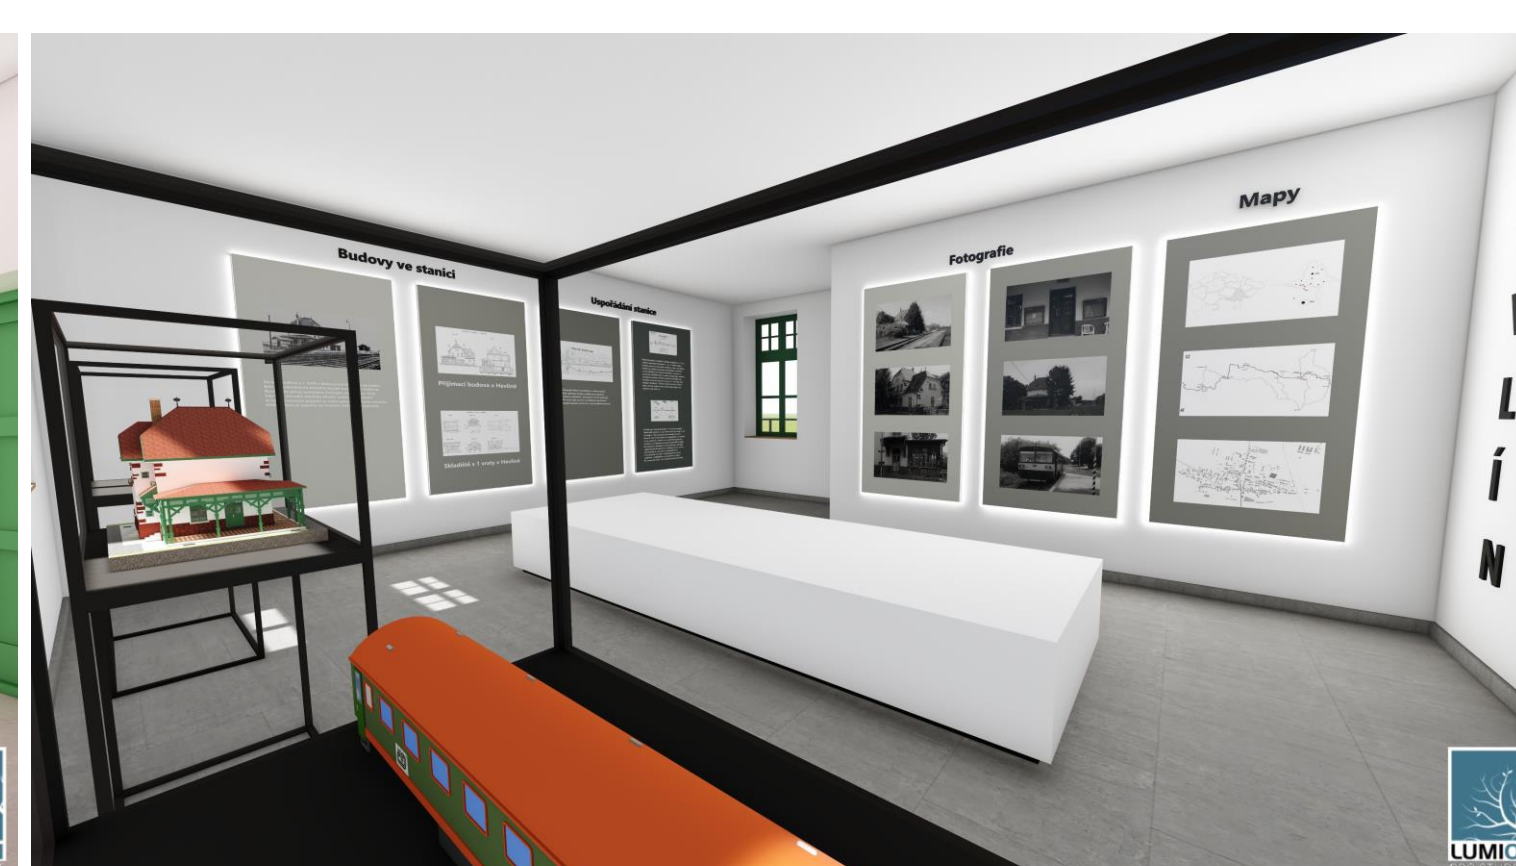

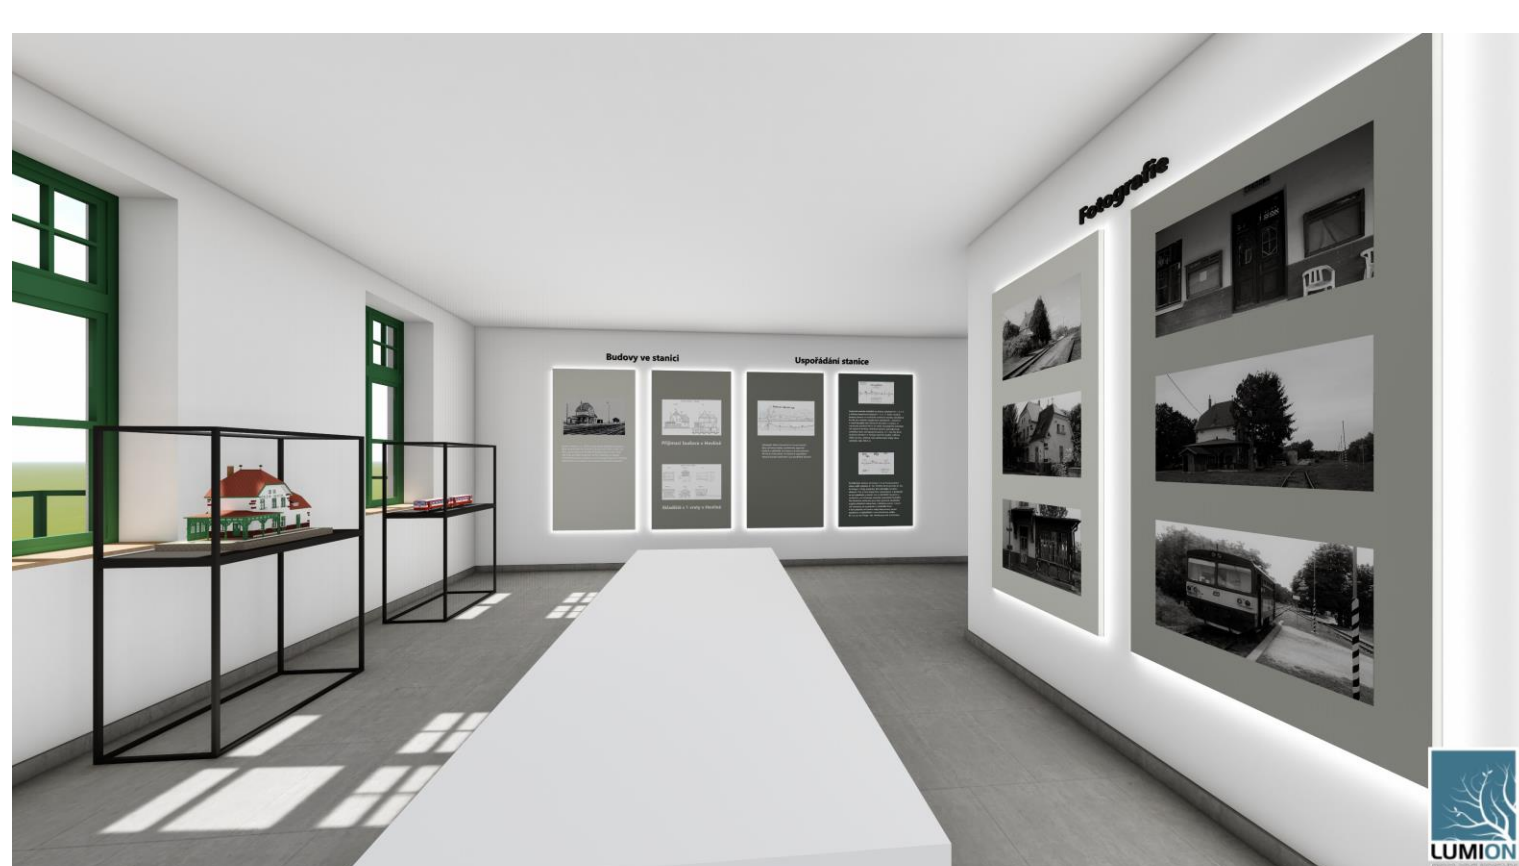

The special part of our coffee shop would be a photogenic wall. Customers could use our photogenic wall for their own pictures and tag us on instagram and spread the message about our coffee shop.

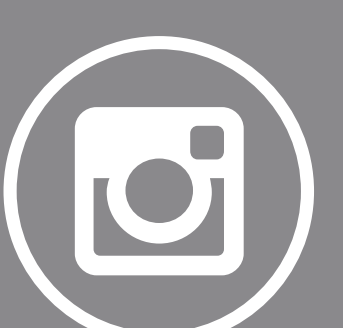

We perceive modern spaces as open and airy. We did not find it practical to have the designed building for the station used as a coffee shop or gallery. Therefore we optically enlarged the space, changed the features of the rooms, removed or created new openings.

We have given a new look with a modern aspect. We wanted to bring something original, creative and tasteful. I believe, we have met our expectations and managed to create a very original concept in a simple space.
